

Welcome to "Wrapped in Love the Scarf Event's" fourth year! In case you are new to our journey, we knit and collect knitted scarves, then around Thanksgiving every year we select an area school to bring our kindness & pay it forward program to the children. The children then receive a hand knitted scarf to start the winter season. All children should be wrapped in love.

Every year I try to tell a short story of an experience I had while interacting with the children. This year a little boy stole my heart. I talk about kindness to the children and they tell me about all the different little things they did to be kind. At the end of our chat, I always tell them to give themselves a big hand and to know that I am so proud of them. When they get ready to leave, they all form a single line as they are walking out the door, I continue to high five them and tell them how proud I am of them. The next thing I know I got this tug on my shirt and it was this little boy who was so excited. He said "hey can I tell you something?" I said sure what's up? He said with such enthusiasm, "I am really proud of you for doing this for us," and proceeds to put his hand up for a high five! Obviously, he made my day.

He was the perfect example of how easy it is to be kind and to teach kindness. I believe that some day that little boy will be the person to pay it forward. On this journey I have come to realize how very important kindness, or the lack of it is very apparent today. If everyone did one act of kindness a day, it would be a great day. I ask the children all the time how it feels to be kind to someone and they all say "it feels really good." so let's continue to spread that really good feeling :)

Please join us on this journey and warm the hearts of as many children as we can. If you would like to donate, you can find me on Face Book at "Wrapped in Love the Scarf Event" or call Celeste at 774-644-3176
